

- We long to be known, loved, and to have purpose. 1 John shows us that in Christ we have all of these things.
- Wrong good news in the end is bad news.
- Do you know the good news of Jesus, the gospel? From the sermon did you identify a way you have added to or subtracted from the pure and simple gospel?
- Where are you hiding right now in your life? Will you take that bold step and confess this to God, and then go to a trusted friend and ask for help?
- Embracing the good news of Jesus allows me to experience real life. This is the news of Jesus perfect life, death on the cross for our sins, and resurrection on the third day.
- Do you know when you are believing a perversion of the good news? What about right now in your life?
- Jesus is inviting you to reject your version of life and receive his good and perfect life for you.
- Walking in the light is seeking to walk in Jesus' ways, but perhaps just as important admitting when we aren't. This is called confessing our sin and is essential to being a believer in Christ. v. 9
- So where have you hidden your sins or sought to cover them yourself instead of giving them to Christ and receiving the forgiveness and righteousness that only he can provide?
- Rest in Christ, his perfections, and the forgiveness he speaks over you.
